PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Design leader with more than 15 years of progressive experience in visual design, art direction, and brand identity across in-house creative teams, agencies, and an independent design consultancy. Spent seven years as Interactive Art Director on the STARZ in-house creative team, managing six designers and developers as their performance manager and serving as creative lead for internal clients across Marketing, PR, and International. Turns business goals into creative strategies, integrated multi-channel campaigns, and brand systems. Builds and enforces brand standards through design systems, style guides, templates, and brand toolkits. Presents confidently to senior leadership and clients, and works well with UX/UI, development, and video partners to deliver unified work. An early adopter of generative AI design tools (Midjourney, Adobe Firefly, Claude), bringing them into creative workflows responsibly to increase speed and quality.
