SUMMARY

Hands-on creator and marketer with 15+ years turning marketing strategy into content that performs, across social, video, web, digital ads, email, and marketing materials, for brands including Netflix, STARZ, AstraZeneca, GSK, and WOW! Internet. Starts every project with the customer and the goal: who we're reaching, what we want them to do, and what will make them stop scrolling. Then turns one idea into a full package of video, social posts, ads, emails, and web pages. Comfortable doing it all: concepting social content, shaping campaign messaging with copywriters, directing photo shoots, editing video, building landing pages, and refreshing website content through the CMS. Uses analytics to see what's working and make the next version better. Organized, deadline-driven, and focused on content that supports the business, including campaigns that drove ~18% user growth for WOW! Internet in new markets.
